If we want economic growth, we must anticipate increased traffic. Proper planning, maintenance of existing roads and construction of new roads will help reduce travel times and increase public safety

One of my highest priorities in the 112th Congress is enacting a fiscally responsible long-term surface transportation law that includes funding and sets policy for the federal highway, transit, and highway safety programs. Long-term legislation will provide predictability for Florida's Department of Transportation and public transit agencies to plan major construction projects and help create and support thousands of jobs.
